As a firm we manage investments across multiple asset classes and as individuals we are encouraged to think creatively to solve problems, explore opportunities, take on new responsibilities and challenges, put our clients first and contribute to our communities. We often measure success over years, not quarters. We value integrity in all that we do, whether it's presenting numbers accurately or being open and honest with a portfolio company executive. People want to do business with those they like and trust. It's a mantra instilled in all of us from the top down.

At KKR, we believe that diverse teams increase performance and produce better results. Teams consisting of employees with varied backgrounds and perspectives will help strengthen our Firm and our investment decisions. Therefore, in an effort to enhance the diversity of our organization, we are particularly focused on recruiting talent that will bring different experiences, capabilities, skills and viewpoints to our organization.

About KKR Private Equity

Established in 1976, KKR is one of the world's oldest and most experienced private equity firms specializing in management buyouts. Funds managed by KKR play significant roles in the financial markets, own portfolio companies that employ large numbers of people, and invest on behalf of public and private pension plans that have millions of individual beneficiaries. At KKR, we take great pride in the accomplishments we've made over the last four decades, and believe our investments have had a positive impact on our portfolio companies, their stakeholders, and the economies in which we operate.

Our approach is to work as partners with the management of our portfolio companies and remain deeply involved in the operations of our businesses. In this way, we help build globally competitive franchises, many of which have increased employment, innovation, and research and development during our ownership. The key beneficiaries of our investments are people who receive support from pension funds, endowments, and foundations — which provide the majority of the capital for our funds.
